

MS#2g Mrs. Lovett

13 (No response from Todd) dim. (Still no response) mp

M.L. go...? In a year or so...? Don't you want to mp leggiero

17 TODD: (Dully) Of course. TODD: Yes, yes, I do, I do.

know? Do you real - ly want to know?

-----Safety-----

MRS. LOVETT: (Settling back) I've always had a dream -- ever since I was a skinny little slip of a thing and my rich Aunt Nettie used to take me to the seaside August Bank Holiday. . . the pier. . . making little castles in the sand. I can still feel me toes wigglng around in the briny.

21 MRS. LOVETT: (last time) mp (to 29)

Start → By the 29

M.L.

sea, Mis-ter Todd, That's the life I cov-et, By the sea, Mis-ter Todd, Ooh, I (leggiero)

32

know you'd love-it! You and me, Mis-ter T, We could be a-lone- In a house wot we'd al-most own - Down by the sea! Would-n't that be TODD: An-y-thing you say.-

35 (MRS. LOVETT)

mp

39 (MRS. LOVETT) (Todd gives her a pained smile)

smash-ing? With the sea at our gate, We'll have mp

42
M.L.

kip-pered her - ring Wot have swum to us straight from the Straits of Ber - ing. Ev - 'ry

45

night in the kip when we're through our kip - pers, I'll be there slip - pin' off your slip -

48

pers By the sea, With the fish - ies

51

splash - ing. By the sea, Would-n't that be

55 (MRS. LOVETT) mf 57 mf

smash - ing? Down by the sea!

TODD: mf

An - y - thing you say, —

58 mp (to 63)

← End I can

An - y - thing you say.

63 (MRS. LOVETT)

see us wak - ing, The break - ers break - ing, The sea - gulls squawk - ing,

(sempre leggiero)

mp

66

Hoo! Hoo! I do me bak - ing, Then I go walk - ing with

L.H. p mp